Detailed Syllabus Information

Course Name	Internationalization of Higher Education in Japan
Language of the Course	English
Type of Class	Lecture Subject
Course Objective	Internationalization is a necessary process for higher education these days. For this process, students are one of the significant stakeholders. To be active stakeholders impacting internationalization in their university, it is important for them to have background knowledge of the past and current internationalization initiatives and learn practical implementation in their university. The objective of this course is to provide an overview of policies and practices in overall internationalization of Japanese higher education as well as Osaka University.
Learning Goals	By the end of the session, students will be able to: 1) give an insight into key internationalization initiatives in higher education since 1980s, 2) identify challenges and future potential in Japanese internationalization efforts, 3) critically think and analyze their positioning in Osaka University and 4) make concrete suggestions in order to make improvements in the current university internationalization initiatives.
Requirement / Prerequisite	No requirements
